Conona crisis and online teaching

The Corona Crisis moved teaching totally online in March 2020.

Both students and lecturers found themselves in a new learning environment that requires new didactic approaches and new ways of teaching.

The computer screen has become our "study" everyday.

Corona crisis and research

Online teaching, which we have "somehow put aside", has become a daily necessity.

Very quickly we felt a lack of closeness and conversations and social interaction.

Corona crisis and research

The purpose of the article and research is to review the existing Slovenian literature and various online sources related to the field of online teaching management.

Corona crisis and research

The aim of the thesis is to select 15 didactic instructions and examples of good practices in this field on the basis of a review of the existing Slovenian literature and various online sources.

RESEARC RESULTS –

All three Slovenian public universities (LJ, MB, Primorska) have already started preparing didactic guidelines for the use of ICT tools in online teaching in 2018. They we "somehow put aside,, and not common used in practise.

Distance teaching and learning means:

- Prolonged sitting in front of the screen
- The need for concentration in monitoring lectures
- The need for high motivation to study
- New didactic approaches by lecturers
- Students' self-discipline
- Good organization of studies and other activities by students and teachers

We need some moving ...

Due to prolonged sitting in front of the computer, we need active short breaks every hour.

Let's look at an example of online cardio recreation exercises.

Below the navigation bar is a promotional banner for 'VELIKA SPOMLADANSKA ODPRODAJA' (Great Spring Sale) with a 'mimovrste' logo and text 'V VSEH ODELEKIH' (In all departments). The video player itself shows the title 'Light Cardio and Stretching Cool Down Workout - Relaxing Stretches for Flexibility' and the 'fitness BLENDER.COM' logo. A play button is overlaid on the video, which features a woman in a blue tank top and black leggings performing a stretch.

Conclusion

- COVID-19 je nedvomno prinesel globalno revolucijo na področju poučevanja.
- COVID-19 has undoubtedly brought about a global revolution in teaching.
- Tako smo pedagoški delavci danes postali motivatorji in navduševalci novodobnih generacij in z IKT podprtimi učnimi okolji omogočamo spreminjati stališča do učenja, sodelovanja, iskanja drugačnih pristopov, ki dolgoročno vodijo k bolj širokemu in trajnejšemu znanju.
- Today, pedagogical workers have become motivators and enthusiasts of modern generations, and with ICT-supported learning environments we enable changing attitudes towards learning, cooperation, and the search for different approaches that lead to broader and more lasting knowledge in the long run.

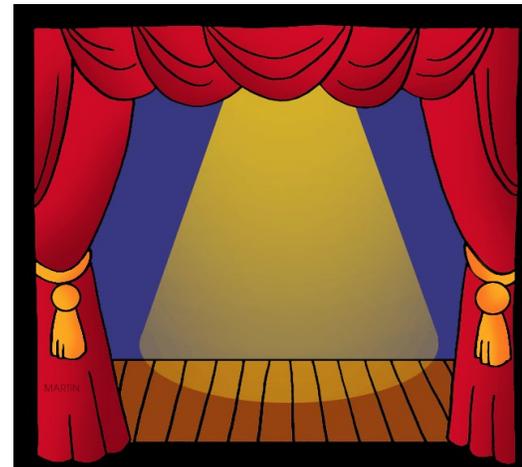

collegial transfer of experiences

- Najbolj pomemben je kolegijski prenos izkušenj in primerov dobre prakse, ki si jih moramo pedagoški delavci nenehno deliti.
- The most important thing is the collegial transfer of experiences and examples of good practice, which pedagogical staff must constantly share.
- Zato je nujno nenehno usposabljanje ter iskanje vedno novih didaktično-pedagoških pristopov pri online poučevanje.
- Therefore, it is necessary to constantly train and find new didactic-pedagogical approaches to online teaching.

Online teaching vs: theatre

- Online poučevanje je kot gledališka igra.
- Potrebujemo zanimivo vsebino, dober scenarij, dobro režijo ter potrebne pripomočke in igralce ter publiko.
- Online teaching is like a theater play. We need interesting content, a good script, good directing and the necessary tools and actors and an audience.

Conclusions

- Večina pedagoških delavcev v svoje pedagoško delo vlaga veliko energije, truda in lastne iniciative. Tudi zdaj (v času krize) ni bilo drugače.
- Most pedagogical workers invest a lot of energy, effort and their own initiative in their pedagogical work. Even now (during the crisis) it was no different.
- In če se še kdaj ponovi, bomo ponovno zagrizli v nova znanja in se trudili po najboljših močeh, da bi v študentih našli vsaj tanko nitko radovednosti, zanimanja, ki svet vodi k novim izzivom in napredku.
- And if it ever happens again, we will bite into new knowledge again and do our best to find in students at least a thin thread of curiosity, an interest that leads the world to new challenges and progress.

Nov pozdrav.
